We have just unpacked and placed on our floor another shipment of dining tables and dining room furniture to match.

Suites in Mahogany and Golden Oak.

We want you to come and look at these new things, which, while new and artistic, are priced at a figure you can afford to consider.

The presence of an airplane over Barre early yesterday afternoon is attested by several persons, among them Alderman Duncan McMillan, who places the time between 12:30 and 1 o'clock, the air visitor making his appearance from the north. The airplane was so high up as to be distinguished with difficulty and was too high to permit the sounds of the motors to reach the earth. Some of those who witnessed the visitor state that they were especially attracted by the fact that a large number of papers were dropped from the airplane, a paper bag being one of the objects picked up by a youth who chased about three-quarters of a mile to get the object. Nothing is known of the identity of the visitor or of his purpose.

The task of scrutinizing all the grave-stones and monuments in Elmwood cemetery is about to be let by the city in accordance with a demand of the state of Vermont for the record of deaths of all persons buried in Barre cemeteries prior to 1870. This record is not at all complete at the city clerk's office, and for some years there are practically no records at all. This demand on Barre is made in conjunction with a similar demand upon all the cities and towns of Vermont under a statute enacted at the last session of the legislature. The task of inspecting all the stones in Elmwood cemetery will be quite long and must be completed before Oct. 1 in order that the returns may be made by the city clerk to the state officials. The city has to pay the expense of securing the records, according to the reading of the law.

work revising the city ordinances in relation to public health and would make verbal report, or written report, just as the board desired. A large number of changes are likely to be made in the ordinances, especially where the ordinances are in conflict with the general law. It was finally decided that the changes should be submitted in writing at a later meeting.

Among the proposed changes is one making the ordinances conform with the new state law respecting the appointment of health officers. There no longer is a local health officer and hence the city will not appoint a physician to the board of health to act as secretary of that board. The local board shall consist of three members, one of whom shall be a physician. It is proposed to change the ordinances so that three laymen can be appointed. Another proposed change is to permit the removal of persons suffering with any contagious disease (not merely smallpox) to an isolation hospital, providing they are not being given the proper attention.

The district health officer, Dr. C. H. Burr, reported that during the month of July the following contagious diseases were reported to him from Barre: Diphtheria 1, chickenpox 1, whooping cough 10. Dr. Burr stated that he would be in Barre Aug. 19 and would be pleased to meet with the board and outline plans. His report was accepted.

At this time Mayor Glyson reported on his mission to the state board of health in Burlington last Wednesday night to protest against the lack of supervision in Barre under the district health officer system. He said that he told the state board the city has no objection to Dr. Burr but considers that official to be overworked with his 35 cities and towns to cover. The state board received Mayor Glyson courteously and told him that it was the firm belief of the members that the system would work out well when once it was gotten into operation. Members of the state board will be in Barre later to go over the situation. The mayor's report was accepted.

As to the state's call for gravestone records prior to 1870, the call was to be made by the council before Oct. 1 and the report to be filed by the city clerk before Jan. 1, next, the mayor was authorized to bring in a recommendation for appointment to the job of gathering the data from the gravestones in Elmwood cemetery, the only cemetery in the city which contains bodies buried prior to 1870. Clerk Mackay said that Barre's, like all other towns' records, was incomplete, especially for the period from 1827 to 1855. It is expected that a man will be put on the job within a short time.

Traction Company Notified It Must Pave Washington Street.

Formal notification was delivered to the Barre & Montpelier Traction & Power company that the company must pave its portion of Washington street between Mount and Richardson streets with the same material which the city is to use in paving the westerly side of that thoroughfare, namely, cement.

There was some debate over the necessity for this resolution of notification inasmuch as the charter of the company demands that the company comply whenever a street carrying the company's tracks is to be improved; but it was finally decided to pass the resolution as a formal notification. The resolution reads as follows:

"Be it resolved by the city council of the city of Barre, that, in the paving of that section of Washington street lying between Mount and Richardson streets, it is hereby ordered and directed that the Barre & Montpelier Traction & Power company shall pave between the tracks on said portion of Washington street and within two feet on each side thereof with the same kind of material as is used by the city on the remainder of said section of said street, as provided by sections 6 and 9 of the amended franchise granted to said Barre & Montpelier Traction & Power company final certificate May 14, 1918; and the said work shall be done at the same time as the southwesterly side of Washington street is being done; and that the street committee shall decide on the date when this shall be done and so notify the company."

Few Arrests in July.

The report of the chief of police for the month of July showed eight arrests, for the following offenses: Intoxication 2, non-support 3, breach of the peace 1, violation of the traffic regulations 1, operating an automobile without number plate 1. The report was accepted and placed on file without comment, although the report shows a marked contrast with previous reports of the police department for years. The arrests for a month heretofore have been in the vicinity of 25 or 30 a month, sometimes much higher.

G. A. Bemis resigned as janitor of the city hall, the resignation to take effect Aug. 16, and the same was accepted. Plans will be made to fill the place temporarily until a definite choice can be made.

On report of the city attorney that the proposed deed of A. A. Boyce as guardian for Dorothy and John Boyce, transferring a small piece of land on Brooklyn street, was accurate, the aldermen accepted the same and ordered the transfer completed.

The wire inspector reported 16 permits granted in June and 22 in July. The report was accepted and placed on file. P. M. Carr was given permission to replace wires on barn of Fritz Jackson. The boiler inspector reported the boiler on the steam roller to be in good condition except for dirt. The street committee was instructed to look into the nuisance of dumping stone chips in the river from Burnham's meadow, and there were hints of prosecution.

George Walker's application to move a chicken coop from Circle street to Center street was granted. Complaint from Rocco Marchese of failure by the city to fix the sidewalk in front of his property on South Main street will be looked into.

These bills were ordered paid: Street payroll, $388.90; engineering payroll, $28.93; fire payroll, $143.51; water payroll, $123.11; police payroll, $137.01; city hall janitor, $10; social worker, 18; Grace Morgan, $1.00; D. M. Gilbertson, wire inspector, $12.00; Dr. V. C. Goodrich, city physician, three months, $150.
